1. In May 2001, the Commission began a proceeding to revisit its universal service contribution methodology.¹ Seeking to further develop the record regarding various proposals submitted in response to the 2001 Notice, on February 26, 2002, the Commission released a Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking and Report and Order.² The Further Notice stated that interested parties could file comments 30 days after Federal Register publication of the Further Notice and reply comments 45 days after such publication. Thirty days after Federal Register publication of the Further Notice is April 12, 2002, and 45 days after Federal Register publication is April 29, 2002.³ On April 2, 2002, Verizon telephone companies (Verizon) filed a petition to extend the deadlines for filing comments and reply comments in this proceeding to May 3, 2002, and June 3, 2002, respectively.⁴ Specifically, Verizon requests an extension of time in order to give the parties additional time to consider and evaluate the complex issues involved in this proceeding, and to align the due dates with the comment period in the related Wireline Broadband NPRM.⁵

2. We hereby grant in part and deny in part Verizon's request for extension of time to file comments and reply comments. It is the policy of the Commission that extensions of time
